Arcacha Charged in Burglary

Sarcio Arcacha, whose name has been linked with the Kennedy assassination probe in New Orleans, Thursday was charged with simple burglary in Houma, La.

Sheriff Bill Decker received a warrant from Terrebonne Parish Dist. Atty. Wilmore Broussard. The charge is in connection with the burglary of a munitions bunker at Houma in 1961.

Arcacha voluntarily went to the sheriff's office here and posted a $10,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Charles T. Davis. Louisiana authorities had asked a bond of $10,000.

Earlier in the week, Arcacha, 44, was charged with conspiracy to commit burglary at Houma. That warrant came from New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison who claims the assassination of President Kennedy was plotted in his city.

Arcacha has said he would fight extradition on the conspiracy charge and there were indications he would do the same on the burglary allegation.

Arcacha, who has lived here since 1963 and works with the export division of an air conditioning firm, said he knows of "nothing pertinent" he could tell New Orleans officials. He said his activities while in New Orleans had absolutely nothing to do with any plot to assassinate the President.

In the New Orleans charge, David Ferrie and Gordon Novel were named along with Arcacha in the conspiracy to commit burglary charge.

Ferrie died of natural causes on Feb. 28. Garrison claims the dead pilot figured into his Kennedy assassination "plot."

Novel also was named in the simple burglary charge filed in Houma. Broussard told The Dallas News.

D.M.N.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison Thursday subpoenaed the military records of Clay L. Shaw, a retired executive charged with conspiring in murder President Kennedy.

Shaw, 54, was a decorated Army major in World War II. The subpoena for his records will be served on the administrator of veterans affairs in Washington.

William J. Driver, administrator, was ordered in the subpoena to have the file on Shaw ready to be produced in criminal district court here April 24.

EXCEPT FOR the subpoena, a matter of public record, Garrison's controversial probe went its secret way, trailed by rumor and enriched by an odd side-light involving the Louisiana governor's office.

In Baton Rouge, Thomas Burbank, superintendent of state police, said his department once bought "anti-bugging" electronic gear from Gordon Nove — a man Dist. Atty. Garrison is trying to pry out of Ohio for questioning in the probe.

Burbank said the equipment was purchased from a New Orleans firm headed by Novel after a 1963 report that the governor's office was being "bugged" with hidden microphones.

"We never did find any equipment in the office," said Burbank.

NOVEL SOLD HIS New Orleans lounge and hustled out of state beyond Garrison's easy legal reach, after an appearance before the grand jury pointing the alleged conspiracy to kill President John F. Kennedy.

"A police state inquisition," he said, in condemning the investigation. He was arrested near Columbus, Ohio, last Saturday on warrants resulting from a burglary conspiracy charge filed by Garrison.

Free under $10,000 bond, Novel said he will fight extradition.

The 1961 burglary involved the theft of explosives from an oil company's storage bunker near Houma, La. Its connection with the alleged assassination conspiracy, if any, was not clear.

LAYTON P. MARTENS, a 24-year-old University of Southwest Louisiana student, posted $2,500 bond on a perjury indictment, based on his testimony before the grand jury March 29 in regard to the burglary.

Martens told reporters previously that he lived with David W. Ferrie for a period in 1963 and was certain that Ferrie never had Lee Harvey Oswald or Shaw in the apartment.

Garrison said Shaw and Oswald met with Ferrie at the Ferrie apartment in September, 1963, to talk over an assassination plot.

Oswald was killed in Dallas. Ferrie died in his apartment last February, during Garrison's investigation.

Records in the Louisiana secretary of state's office list an Electronics Systems International as filing papers June 27, 1966, listing Novel among the incorporators.

Dean Andrews, recently indicted on a perjury charge by the grand jury in the conspiracy probe, was listed as attorney for the firm.
